

YTM - Mont-Tremblant International Airport

Mont-Tremblant International Airport was formally a US-Canadian military base known as La Macaza. It has been revitalized and modernized into an international resort airport providing access to commercial and private aircrafts. This first Canadian resort airport welcomes guests from around the world offering all the security and facilities required of an international airport.

Our mission

Mont-Tremblant International Airport is the quality airport of choice for people traveling to the Mont-Tremblant and Upper Laurentian regions. Whether you're visiting for business or pleasure, using a private aircraft or scheduled commercial flights, we offer convenience and personalized customer service.
